ROWLETT'S TRIAL MAY BE DELAYED UNTIL NOVEMBER

States Witnesses Unable To Appear Against Reckless Driver.

But little change is reported in the condition of Miss Gertrude Carlton at the Faust hospital this morning. The physicians are working hard to prevent the tissues of her injured leg from dying. There has been indication of gangrene in some of the tissues, but these were removed by the surgeon. Infection has set into the injured leg, hindering the flesh from healing.

Miss Carlton will be maimed for life as a result of the auto wreck in which she was caught between the car and a tree, crushing her leg and tearing the flesh from the bone.

Luther Correll, Stonewall youth whose leg was broken in the same wreck, was discharged from the hospital this morning and has returned to his home.

Hearing May Be Continued.

C. E. Rowlett, driver of the car which was wrecked and in which those injured were riding, is scheduled for a preliminary hearing before Justice H. J. Brown tomorrow. The hearing may be continued until some time in November, however, because of the inability of the three who were injured to appear as witnesses at this time. Information against Rowlett was filed by Sheriff Bob Duncan, who will appear as the state's prosecuting witness. Rowlett will probably be charged with criminal negligence.

In the event of Miss Carlton's death this charge will be changed either to that of murder or manslaughter.

There are no grades or degrees of murder in the statutes of Oklahoma. If the evidence points that the killing was the result of an act with malice aforethought, unlawfully and intentionally committed, the charge is simply murder.

In a case where a killing results from gross or criminal neglect, the party of parties responsible may be held for murder.

Rowlett is out under $4000 bond pending his hearing. He has been a regular visitor at the hospital, inquiring about the condition of those injured in the wreck. He is said to have asked all who were in the car not to testify against him.

"I will do all I can to help you," Miss Carlton is reported to have said when the sheriff arrived on the scene of the wreck to arrest the driver. Miss Carlton at that time was stretched out on one of the cushions of the car waiting for a mattress to be fixed in another car to take her to the hospital.

"He asked us not to say that he had been drinking," Miss Maude Ross, one of the girls in the wrecked car, told a News reporter.

Electric House To Be Installed In Ada Soon

A new electric house is to be installed in Ada in the near future which will be owned by F. G. Gay and L. W. Drummond. Mr. Gay is a former citizen of Ada and is well known among most of the people. L. W. Drummond, brother of Charlie Drummond of the Drummond & Alderson firm, will be the active manager. The new firm will be known as the Gay Electric company. Work will begin immediately on the installation of the plant and they invite their friends to come around and all others to visit them and get acquainted.

COOLIDGE TO HEAD BIG TORCHLIGHT PARADE

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts, republican vice presidential candidate, will ride at the head of an old torchlight parade up Fifth avenue here tonight and he will review the marchers, expected to number 75,000. He made this announcement this morning after conferring with Charles Sherrill, grand marshal of the procession.

"A dress designer," says a Camomile street dressmaker in the London News, "must be born." We always think this is an advantage.—Punch, London.

Too Many Is Plenty

No wonder the United States acquires more bad laws every year.

What else can you expect of 435 assorted congressmen, mostly elected on their ability to orate and shake hands?

The new census threatens 69 more.

Congressmen are elected on the basis of one to every so many people. Originally there were 65, apportioned among the thirteen states this way: New Hampshire, 3; Massachusetts, 8; Rhode Island, 1; Connecticut, 5; New York, 6; New Jersey, 4; Pennsylvania, 8; Delaware, 1; Maryland, 6; Virginia, 10; North Carolina, 5; South Carolina, 5; Georgia, 3.

And now look at them, scattered all over the front yard of Washington, so thick they don't know each other by sight! As a legislative body, the house is mediocre, unwieldy and inefficient.

Membership should be reduced by half, not increased every 10 years with the census. Your congressman may do this any time. The constitution gives them the duty of deciding how many common folks it takes to make one congressman. But enlarging the congressional districts, to reduce the number of representatives, will automatically legislate many of them out of their jobs.

Fat chance efficiency has!

CHARGES HARRELD VILLIFIED THE LIVING AND TRADED THE DEAD

Democratic Chairman Flays Republican Candidate for Senator in Scathing Denunciation for 'Wilful
Misrepresentation and Slander.'

Special to the News

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 28.—

Cam Campbell, chairman of the democratic state campaign committee, denounced J. W. Harreld, republican candidate for United States senator, as "a candidate who has been emphatically convicted of wilful misrepresentation and slander and self-confessed advocate of separate peace with Germany," in a statement issued here tonight, and called upon Oklahoma voters, regardless of party, "to rebuke this recreant American who has villified the living and traduced the dead."

Campbell's statement was prompted by Harreld's speech at Tulsa last Saturday night wherein Harreld said "any man who favors the league of nations is a disloyalist."

"J. W. Harreld, the Bergerite candidate for United States senator, who won the republican nomination in the primary election to the now admitted shame of thousands of republicans of Oklahoma, has been proven a juggler of truth and a political slanderer," said Campbell.

"His deliberate statement at Tulsa that any one who favors the league of nations is a disloyalist is an insult to millions of patriotic women and men throughout the country as well as in Oklahoma and will be scathingly presented when the voters get at Harreld at the polls next Tuesday. Harreld has villified the living and traduced the dead."

"Every gold star mother in the land is for the league of nations. One of these noble mothers who sent her five sons to the war and laid two of them on the altar of her country not only is for the league but sent five dollars of her scant income to the democratic campaign fund with a prayer for Cox's election. But of course, her noble sacrifice means nothing to Mr. Harreld who voted in favor of Berger, the pro-German and against making Lincoln's birthday a national holiday.

"Every wounded soldier, lying in hospitals as a result of serving his country, is for the league, but of course his agony has no influence with the Bergerite now masquerading as republican candidate for United States senator.

"Every religious body in the United States has gone on record in favor of the league, but of course, in the judgment of J. W. Harreld all these are disloyalists.

"The Methodist church in its conference at Des Moines, in Baptist national association meeting at Washington, the Presbyterian general assembly at Philadelphia, the convention of Protestant Episcopal church at Detroit, the National Council of the Congregational church at Grand Rapids, the Unitarian General conference at Baltimore, the Christian church at Cincinnati, the Council of Jewish Women of America, the Federal council of churches with representatives from practically all denominations, has endorsed the league, but every one of these is denounced as a

School Teachers Romp and Play at Hallowe'en Party

"The time when screech-owls cry and ban-dogs howl, and spirits walk and ghosts break up their graves."—Shakespeare.

That's Hallowe'en. And when the spirit of Hallowe'en walks, it is license for any and all kinds of capers and pranks. The small boy feels a strong desire to take down gates, change the butcher's sign for that of the undertaker, and, above all, he wants to hoist a wagon to the top of the church. The prissy, the stern and austere, all seem to forget their everyday selves and indulge in hideous, ghostly doings.

And so it is that even school-teachers are susceptible. The entire faculty of the Ada high school was moved by the spirit of Hallowe'en at a Hallowe'en party given at the high school Tuesday night. The cloak of dignity was cast aside and all became happy, carefree youngsters again for a moment. Such games as "pinning on the old mule's tail," a bean hunt, and a peanut race formed some of the evening's pleasures.

Misses Eunice Bills and Kathleen Brock, and Prof. D. T. Bradshaw were hosts of the occasion. Thirty-five guests were present. A reading by Miss Adams, Hallowe'en stunts, music and refreshments made up the evening's entertainment.

William McDowell was awarded the prize in the peanut race.

Miss Mabel Norwood and Dennis Davis were awarded prizes for finding the most beans in the bean hunt.

In an original stunt contest, Mrs. Mabel Brown was voted to be the best stunter. She imitated a young girl flirting with a street car conductor.

In pinning on the old mule's tail, Miss Mabel Norwood and Charles Bobbit came nearest to pinning it in the right place and won the prizes.

Miss Sallie Fulton told fortunes in the tent of fortune.

A salad course was served by Misses Brock and Bills, assisted by Mrs. M. Bills and Mrs. John P. McKneeley.

The rooms were tastefully decorated appropriate of the occasion.

ONE SHELBY BRUCE 'HOT CHECK' ARTIST IS STILL MISSING

Gander Shanked Deadbeat
Eludes County Officers in Making Exit.

The county attorney's and sheriff's offices, holding a warrant for his arrest on a "hot check" charge, are still at loss to know the whereabouts of one, Shelby S. Bruce, erstwhile printer and reporter on the Evening News.

Bruce will be remembered as the slim, hatchet-faced individual who palmed himself off on the News last spring as a reporter, claiming to have graduated from the composing room to the editorial tripod by his own untiring efforts, and who actually fooled the News for several weeks into the belief that he was what he claimed to be.

He was put on the staff more through sympathy than anything else and was given every opportunity to learn the business. In fact he was encouraged by promotion in both position and wages in the hope that he might make good. The scarcity of help at that time even induced the management to loan him money and go his security for loans at the bank, and more than that, to keep him on the staff, even after it was learned that he hitched singular nouns and plural verbs in the same harness, to say nothing of poor orthography and worse grammar.

Finding that this institution was so unusually easy he added insult to injury, a few weeks ago, by flooding the town with what is known in the vernacular of the street as "hot checks," or checks on banks in which he had no funds.

When these began to flow profusely through the various commercial arteries of the city the News management made inquiry as to the gentleman's (?) financial stability.

This was too much. The dignity of "His Nibs" was dented, lacerated and otherwise mutilated, and one bright, sunny day only a few weeks ago he took leave, or hibernating, in the untut. In plainer parlance, the whereabouts of the said Bruce has been veiled in mystery, and even the sheriff's office, in which reposes a warrant charging this embryonic crook with obtaining money under false pretense, has been unable to locate him.

The News has no object whatever in acknowledging its weakness of not being able to judge human nature, but it airs this little office secret in the hope that other publishers over this and adjoining states may be on the alert for this plethoric pretender who knows more in a minute about downright thievery than he will learn in a lifetime about the printing or publishing business.

He claims Pittsburg, Oklahoma, as his home and it is understood that his parents reside there—in fact the News knows that his father lives there for, it is just in receipt of a letter from him in which he shirks any responsibility for his son's actions, and expresses himself as unwilling to help us in making good any of his delinquencies.

The craft is warned to keep a weather eye out for this particular shanghai, and if located to communicate with either this publication or the office of the sheriff of Pontotoc county.

Henry—"It was a case of love at first sight with me." Richard—"Then why didn't you marry her?" Henry—"I saw her again on several occasions."

HUGHES DEMANDS THAT COX REPUDIATE ACT. 10

By the Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 28.—A demand that Governor Cox frankly repudiate the obligation which article 10 of the league of nations would impose upon the United States, was made in an announcement here today before the Columbia Club, by Charles E. Hughes.

The speaker, after a detailed analysis of the article, declared it would obligate the United States to underwrite the territorial delineations of the Versailles treaty, whether good or bad.

He said there was "no necessity for clarifying the article, as proposed by the democratic presidential candidate."

MAN WHO TALKED OF "ENDING" BRITISH COAL CRISIS IS ARRESTED

Police arresting suspect before premier's house and, below James Henry Thomas, leader of British railway men, snapped on way to conference just before miners struck.

Declarations of a cripple before Premier Lloyd George's home on Downing street, London, that he would "settle" the coal miners' troubles "in his own way" led police on guard there to arrest him. Fear that he planned some radical act prompted the precaution. James Henry Thomas, president of the British railway men's organization, is an important figure in the industrial crisis in England because of the fact that his organization may walk out to aid the striking miners.

ADA WAS SHRINERS MECCA YESTERDAY

Hundreds of State's Leading Masons See Ada for First Time.

Ada was most assuredly the Mecca of India Temple Shriners yesterday.

Early in the day they began arriving from neighboring localities, and by 2 o'clock, the time for the arrival of the special Shrine train from Oklahoma City and intermediate points, the streets were already a surging sea of red caps.

The special train was more than an hour late, but the crowd at the Frisco depot passed away the time nicely by means of the frivolity and various stunts perpetrated by the nobles and novices, especially the more aggressive candidates for the ring.

When the special train arrived, bearing some five or six hundred Arabs and novices, a monster parade was staged from the Frisco station to the Harris Hotel; thence to the Ada Motor company's establishment on East Main, thence to the intersection of Main and Broadway, south on Broadway to 12th, west on 12th to Townsend, north on Townsend to Main and thence back to the Harris Hotel, where a concert was held and the parade disbanded.

A general tour of the town by the visitors occupied their time until 5:30, at which time the guests and local members as well drew their tickets and went to the various locations where the banquet of the evening was prepared. The ladies of the various churches had charge of the eats, and nothing but the highest praise of their efforts was heard on all sides.

To Presbyterian ladies had charge of the tables at the Elks Club, the Methodist ladies at the Norris building on West Main, the Baptist ladies at the Baptist church, the Christian ladies at the Shetland building on East Main, the Episcopalians at the home of Mrs. Winter-smith, while the Harris Hotel also had its quota.

After the banquet the program consisted of a free show at the McSwain Theater and a dance at the Elks Club and city hall. This occupied the time of the visitors until the departure of their special train at 12:59, at which time all visitors and most of the local Shriners boarded the train for Sulphur.

HARDING DOES NOT REMEMBER SOVIET LETTER

Republican Candidate Says
Letter Only 'Formal
Note for Friend.'

By the Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28.—In another statement regarding the activities of Washington Vanderlip, supposed to be negotiating with the soviet government in Russia, Senator Warren G. Harding declared here today that he was "very certain" he never had given Vanderlip a letter of introduction to any one and that Vanderlip was in no sense to be regarded as his agent.

"If there is any truth in public reports that Vanderlip has used such a letter in his negotiations," Mr. Harding said, "the communication could be no more than a purely formal note given at the request of some friend."

The senator resting here between campaign speeches, also publicly expressed his disapproval of a cartoon recently published in Harvey's Weekly, picturing Governor Cox in allegorical character. The republican nominee said in a statement that because he was sensitive about giving offense to religious reverence, he had asked for suppression of the picture made by the A. C. Reid syndicate, which has done work for the republican national committee.

An automobile ride and luncheon at a Cleveland country club were the only engagements on the nominee's program today before his departure in the afternoon for Akron, Ohio, where he speaks tonight.

Fireman Killed by Bridge.

VINITA, Oct. 25.—George Edwards, fireman on Frisco freight train No. 437, eastbound, was instantly killed Friday morning at 8 o'clock while standing on the step of his engine as the train passed over the Grand river bridge between Fairland and Wyandotte. Someone of the train crew had told the fireman that the firebox was losing some of the fire and as he stood on the step to investigate the train shot over the bridge and his head was crushed by striking one of the bridge beams. The body fell into Grand river and was picked up by the train crew about 100 yards down stream from the bridge and was taken to Fairland. The remains were shipped out on the afternoon train to Monett.

Mr. Edwards was a single man and had been rooming at Sapulpa, but his relatives live in Monett. It is said that he was unfamiliar with the run, and was therefore unaware of the train's approaching the bridge at that point.

COST OF WIVES HIGH IN FAR OFF BURMA

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK—The cost of wives has increased in the far-off Chin Hills of Burma, where they are obtained on the "dollar down" plan. Men matrimonially inclined are demanding lower and easier terms from their prospective fathers-in-law, who are compensated for the loss of their daughter's labor. declares a report by Rev. J. Herbert Cope, representative of the Baptist Foreign Mission society at Haka. "This year a lively discussion grew out of the resolution that selling of daughters cease," the report continued. The custom has grown into an abuse. Men are demanding more and more until a young chap who marries goes frightfully into debt which he is years liquidating. And, if while paying slowly for his wife, the husband incurs the anger of her father, the daughter is promptly called home and in some cases sold to another man. We have been trying to get them to reduce the charges." Efforts to induce the natives to follow the customs of white men are being made in educational institutions opened in these districts as a result of the New World Movement of Northern Baptists, Doctor Cope said.

O'NEILL HOLDS RECORD FOR NUMBER OF GAMES

By the Associated Press
CLEVELAND—Steve O'Neill, star catcher with the championship Cleveland baseball team, established a new American league record this season by participating in 149 games, and came within one game of the major league record—150 games, set by George Gibson of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The previous catchers' record for the American league was 141 games established in 1911 by Oscar Stanage of Detroit. Stanage's runners-up were Ray Schalk of Chicago, and "Hank" Severoid of St. Louis, each of whom caught 139 games in 1917. O'Neill has caught in 982 games since joining the Indians in 1912. He has 4,251 putouts, 1,244 assists and 153 errors.

FEWER TENANTS MORE OWNERS IN OKLAHOMA

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The increase in farm tenantry which has become an issue in Kansas does not appear uniform throughout the central west, according to reports received here from a number of agricultural authorities. While the majority of the several states heard from report an advance, Wisconsin notes no change owing to the opening of new farms, and Oklahoma declares a decrease.

Illinois, Minnesota, Nebraska and Ohio show increases. Farm tenantry in Oklahoma has shown a decrease of 7 per cent during the 10 years since 1910, according to figures from each county compiled by H. H. Shutz, federal statistician for the state. In 1910, farm owners made up 45 per cent of the tillers of the soil, and renters 55 per cent, while now owners represent 52 per cent and renters 48 per cent. Nearly every section of the state showed a decrease in the number of renters, according to Mr. Shutz, who based his report on returns from all farms in the state, numbering approximately 193,000. Mr. Shutz noted a growing tendency on the part of renters to buy a small tract, from 10 to 20 acres, and rent adjoining land. He said high crop prices have enabled many renters to swing into the owner column.

HOUSTON TEXAS.—"I was in a terribly run-down condition of health after a siege of ptomain poisoning, and then the influenza. I could not seem to regain my strength and was really not able to do my housework. After taking the second bottle my strength returned rapidly and I felt better in every way.

HITTING AN ENTIRE PARTY

For several years it has been popular among certain people to say real mean things about all socialists. But the keenest insult ever offered the socialists of Oklahoma was extended by the Honorable J. W. Harreld when he voted to seat Victor Berger in congress.

Berger was a convicted traitor. He was convicted not because he was a socialist, but because he had attempted to betray his country in days of war. He was a recognized disloyalist throughout the war.

But the socialists of Oklahoma were not disloyalists. They sent their boys to service by the thousands. They supported every war measure. Some of them were disloyal just like some democrats and some republicans were disloyal. But the socialist rank and file supported the war as loyally as any other class of people. Of those socialists who were disloyal Victor Berger was chief.

Then came the Berger election to congress. Harreld voted to seat him. Harreld knew that Berger had been convicted by a jury of his peers. He knew that Berger had been convicted of the most detestable offense that an American can possibly commit. He knew that Berger was convicted as a traitor and not as a socialist. He voted to seat Berger in congress.

In voting to seat Berger Harreld acted on presumption that every socialist in Oklahoma is a traitor. He cast a political vote with an eye cast towards the next election. He believed that every Oklahoma socialist is disloyal and would appreciate his support of Berger. His vote was the greatest insult the socialists of Oklahoma have ever received from any source.

JUST A HABIT

The opposition of Oklahoma republican leaders to the league covenant is not a matter of principle—it is just a habit. Years ago they got into a deep, deep rut and have never been able to climb out. For thirteen years they have been agin things. They still have the habit.

Thirteen years ago when Oklahoma was entering the union republican leaders were piping the shell of state politics. Opposition to the adoption of the constitution was their birth-cry. They said the adoption of the "best constitution ever written" would play everlasting hob with this virgin commonwealth. Everything hidden in the book of fate was unfolded by the tribe of Hamon as a horrible passage of what would occur in the land of the Fair God if we should adopt the constitution. The mountains of Pushmataha would be leveled to the earth. The plains of the Salt Fork would become a lake of fire and brimstone. Every schoolhouse would be razed to the earth and every church would be converted into a hob joint. Thorns and thistles would grow out of the ground.

But the Jeremiads of the Hamonites were not heard or hearkened to and Oklahoma is one of the jewels of the union. The dire predictions of calamity never materialized. The sons of the winds were false prophets. But in the days of their political debut they acquired the habits of negation and have never been able to break the spell. They are still standing pat and refusing to move either forward or backward. Baalim's ass had the same habit.

LOOKING UPWARD

Had you noticed the difference on the face of things since the clouds blew away and the sun has come out of hiding? So had we. It looks like a new world. Politics doesn't taste half so bitter and the cotton market is not so depressing and most of our neighbors once more act like human beings. What does it matter if the world is a little lop-sided the sun shines and all is well.

Even in days of downpour and mental rheumatism some few of the old world's children kept their eyes above the gloom. The other day we encountered a man who was impervious to bad weather. He fairly radiated sunshine and satisfaction. The rain was coming down in sheets and he was fighting to save his political cuticle. But he was ignoring the antics of Jupiter Pluvius and treating a bitter partisan battle as an invitation to a coronation. He was just the kind of man that brags on the perfection of the cyclone that blows away his premises.

It has cleared off, as we say in the vernacular. It always clears off. And when we are moping along through muddy crossings and looking at the world through blinding rains, we should remember that the sun is shining brightly only a few hundred feet away. After all the assertion of Omar Khayyam is not bad philosophy:

"I sent my soul through the invisible,
Some letter of the after life to spell,
And this was the message it brought me—
'I, myself, am heaven or hell'."

If a league to preserve peace would cause war, maybe a league to insure war would cause peace. If we can't get one, perhaps we had better try the other.

'TWEEN US AND THE GATE POST

Each day a News reporter will ask a pertinent question on some topic of the day of four people picked at random.

The Question.

What chance do you think that Ada has to win the prize in the better cities contest in Oklahoma?

The Answers.

C. E. Canning, of Dascomb-Daniel Lumber company—"I think that Ada has a good chance to win because the citizenship is intensely interested in its boys and girls and determined that they shall have every advantage to develop morally, mentally and physically."

S. P. Ross, M. D.—"Barring the danger of small children being mired in the streets, I consider Ada's chance stands 'Ace High.'"

Mrs. John Beard, saleslady—"I think that Ada has a good chance because of its live Commercial Club and other live civic societies that are interested in improving the city."

CHARGES HARRELD VILLIFIED LIVING

"disloyalist" by J. W. Harreld. "Pope Benedict in his latest encyclical warmly endorses the league. Only last week Cardinal Gibbons, who is venerated by men and women of all creeds of America, said 'the time has come when I feel it to be my duty to my God to make a pronouncement and I urge our people to render a verdict which will hasten the day when America will take her place with the nations of the world in this great humanitarian enterprise.' Is it not a shame that this great American should be denounced as a disloyalist by a man who voted to allow Victor Berger to hold a seat in congress?"

"Not only as the chairman of the democratic campaign committee but as an American citizen I call upon the voters of Oklahoma, regardless of party, to rise in their indignation next Tuesday and smite, with withering condemnation J. W. Harreld who has villified his patriotic countrymen and countrywomen, slandered the great leaders in our political and religious life and traduced the memory of eighty-one thousand patriots who lie dead in France unable in their last sleep to express their scorn and contempt for this slander of their memory."

At the McSwain.

Showing at this theater today are the U. S. Girls who are pleasing the patrons of this theater to the satisfaction of all.

Their harmony quartet makes a hit with all. The chorus is the best that has played the McSwain for quite a while. Comedians are very clever and refrain from using smut to get laughs. The picture program today is a Paramount feature, starring Ethel Clayton. Young Mrs. Winthrop is the title and its a true to life story of the too much pleasure loving wife and a too much business loving husband.

A comedy also to chase away the cares and the pictures are always featured with the best picture playing orchestra to be found anywhere.

At the New Liberty.

The thrilling adventures of a scientist among the South Sea Islands are realistically set forth in "Choosing a Wife," the first National attraction, which will be shown at the Liberty Theater today.

Andrew Quick is an explorer backed by wealthy interests which send him into the South Seas to study the natives and various aspects of the country. Traveling in one of the remote islands with a small bodyguard, he is set upon by fierce savages who kill off his followers and take Quick prisoner. Held by the natives he is visited by a dark-skinned girl who longs to go to the lands of the white men, of which she has heard in a vague and distant way. She begs to be allowed to go with him, and secretly gives him the means of freeing himself. A native lover of the woman witnesses his escape. By superhuman effort Quick throws the savage into the sea. Later he is rescued by a relief expedition. It is then he goes back home to face the most remarkable situation imaginable, that of answering to a woman who thinks he has proposed to her, while in truth he has been trying to propose to her niece.

"Going Some," the latest Goldwin-Beach production, was directed by Harry Beaumont who was formerly director of Tom Moore. The story is based on the stage success written by Rex Beach in collaboration with Paul Armstrong and Cullen Landis, whose work in "The Girl From Outside" has scored with critics the country over. At

"Going Some" deals with the sporting feud between two rival ranches in the great southwest, where a Yale athlete comes out of the east and is called on to live up to his reputation, win the prize and win the girl. Sprouting oil wells and the struggle for wealth Three girls figure in the sporting events and the life of the hero. Of the three girls in the cast Lillian Hall and Helen Ferguson have been selected. Miss Hall was a Brooklyn high school girl who gained her stock experience in Philadelphia and then began her screen career. Miss Ferguson's first screen parts were on the Chicago lot when the "windy" city had hopes of being a rival to southern California. At eighteen she had also qualified as a scenario writer, and is a poster designer besides having a professional acquaintance with music.

The hero of "Going Some" is which Mr. Beach later re-wrote as a novel.

Princess Fire.

The gray fog folds the houses round,
The rain falls from the sky,
And in the house, all snug and warm,
Are Princess Fire and I;
She wears a gown of changing red
And while she sings to me
She dances gayly to and fro
With laughing witchery.
Oh, weary, weary, weary wheels
Slow turning in the street;
Oh, lamps that burn so bravely there,
Through all the mist and sleet;
Oh, great bleak winds from northern lands
That beat against the pane—
To your cold realms I banish you—
To darkness and the rain.
Upon the hearthstone here within
The ruddy comfort gleams,
And Princess Fire her province rules;
The while her subject dreams;
And here are warmth and cheer
And light.
Ah! here no need to sigh—
A lover and his lady bright—
Good Princess Fire and I.

The Senior Party.

Roria, Roria, Zip, Boom Bah!
Seniors, seniors, Rah, rah, rah!
"The first, the last, the best"
was the class party given by the seniors on last Monday night in the reception room at the Normal.
Owing to the nearness of Halloween, the decorations were in keeping with the occasion, being in orange and black. An occasional witch made her appearance but, contrary to expectations, she seemed to bring with her a lucky spell under the influence of which every one present had more than the usual good time.

Conversation, music and punch kept the good time "going," until ready for the main entertainment of the evening. This came in the form of a progressive game in which everyone had a chance to get acquainted with every one else and incidentally to show how well he could play. Fortune seemed to favor Miss Ruby Goodnight, who was declared to be the best player and was presented with a box of candy. Miss Mildred Robinson seemed to have incurred the displeasure of the witch, but, received as a consolation, a much decorated balloon. After strenuous mental exercise incident to such games, the wants of the inner man were ministered to, by means of meat sandwiches, fruit salad and hot chocolate.

Following this, Miss Carney, in a very interesting manner, told the story of "H. Trovatore" for the benefit of those who expect to attend the opera next Monday evening. After the story the happy crowd regretfully dispersed for home feeling that nothing more could have been desired for the enjoyment of the evening.

Those present were, Misses Gertrude Hacker, Mabel Jones, Elizabeth Smith, Faye Knotts, Mary Hardin, Mattie Sue Minner, Zuma Horton, Muriel Davidson, Alma Mount, Ruby Goodnight, Enda Driskell, Hazel Strom, Lilla McKendree, Mildred Robinson, Lura Blanchard, Agnes Cameron and Vera Wallace. Messrs Dewey Hodges, Roby Spencer, Harris Ingram, W. O. Morgan, Fred Lane, Alvis Tunnell, Frank East, W. K. Newcomb, Wm. Riddle, E. A. Hester, Raymond Caskel, Pat Bentley, Marvin Cassidy, Otto Bray, Lee Lowe, President and Mrs. Linschied, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Pauline Robinson, Mr. Davis and Misses Carney and Spriggs.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Abney of Oklahoma City were among the visiting Shriners here yesterday.

Mrs. Ross Sarrett of Vanoss is here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bumgarner.

Mrs. A. Linschied will entertain the members of the faculty and friends next Friday evening.

Mrs. W. C. Lee returned home last night after several weeks' visit with her daughters, Mrs. C. Cagle and Miss Lucille Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris returned to their home in Oklahoma City yesterday after several days' visit with relatives and friends in Ada.

NOTED NORWEGIAN WOMAN IN AMERICA

Miss Lily Heber.

The convention of the World Brotherhood Federation now being held in Washington is being attended by delegates from all parts of the world. Miss Lily Heber, doctor of philosophy at the University of Christiana, Norway, is the only foreign woman delegate.

A. E. Barton of Cherokee, Ala., is here visiting W. C. Lee and family.

J. T. Farrer of Fresno, Calif., father of Dr. Katherine Threlkeld-Brydia and Mrs. Austin Brown, is here visiting his daughters this week. He was formerly a prominent business man of Center.

Mrs. Beulah James of Pawhuska attended the Shriners celebration here yesterday and will spend a few days visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Austin, and other relatives.

Nicar-Crews.

Wallace Nicar and Miss Anna Crews of Francis were married in Ada yesterday morning at the home of Rev. C. V. Dunn. The couple are well known among the younger set at Francis and the wedding came as a surprise to most of their friends. Mr. Nicar is connected with the Frisco yards at that place and they will make their home there.

Legionnaires Train For Game With Normal Nov. 11

The American Legion huskies who are to meet the Normal eleven on Armistice day are training hard every day for that football battle. The boys meet each evening on the high school campus and are going through some real practice.

"We want all former service men who can play football to come and try out for the team," said one of the legion men this morning. "The boys will be found at the high school campus every day except Saturday and Sunday, between 4:30 and 5 o'clock."

Harry Hutchinson is captain of the team, Walter Wray is the coach and Frank McCain is team captain. A rumor to the effect that Coach Clary of the Normal team had backed down on the game was denied by Clary today.

"We have not refused to meet the legion team," Clary told the News, "but some details about the division of the gate receipts have not been fully arranged. We want

AMERICAN HAS HAD TIME FINDING HOME

By the Associated Press

LONDON.—Joseph Newsome, an American subject charged at Willesden court with returning to this country after being deported to America as an undesirable, was described by the magistrate as a "human suttiecock."

Newsome told the magistrate that after arriving in America, he went before a board to whom he admitted that he had well-to-do relatives in England. He said they gave him a ticket and passport for Liverpool and put him aboard a ship. He told them he was an American subject and had only just been deported from England, but they told him to return to his rich relatives.

The magistrate said it was a remarkable story and remanded him for inquiries to be made at the home office.

Gosh! Give Her Credit. CLEVELAND.—The common pleas court was to decide here whether a woman has a right to fib about her age.

Harry Levin brought suit for divorce against his wife on the ground that she misrepresented her age to him when they were married in 1915. She gave her age as 22, he said. Recently he discovered his wife was 44.

"Pesagi Queen" Contest In Full Sway at Normal

The big contest is now on at the Normal. It is under the direction of the Pesagi staff and will be sure to be pushed to the highest point of success. Early yesterday the contest took on a business like aspect and the votes began to come in fast and furious. Miss Hacker, senior candidate, took the lead but was soon outdone by the supporters of Miss Caruth, who, in spite of the large score gained on them, were able to put their candidate first and kept her first during the day. Voting was again in evidence this morning but as yet no definite information can be learned as to who is taking the lead. This will be a hard fought contest and the supporters of each candidate are working hard to make their candidate win.

OIL MAN STOLE TO PAY WOMAN BLACKMAIL

BARTLESVILLE.—C. L. Ford, formerly head of the land and lease department of the Empire Oil company has been placed under arrest here on the charge of using $2,500 of the company's funds to pay blackmail to a woman known as Geraldine C. Woods.

He was arraigned in court and his bond fixed at $10,000. Ford pretended that he was paying Miss Woods the $2,500 for services rendered by her for the company, it was alleged.

Ninety-seven personal letters written by Ford to Miss Woods were returned to him through a local bank in return for the money it was said.

The complaint formerly charges that the payment was made with the deliberate intention of defrauding the Empire company out of $2,500 by paying it out for his personal letters to the woman. Among the witnesses in the case are the managers of many leading hotels in Texas.

HOW A FARM ENGINEER Gives Practical Aid To 130,000 Farmers

RUNNING the farm truck or tractor, building a barn or fence, erecting a silo or mixing concrete—the successful farmer must have at his command more types of specialized knowledge than any other single workman. But producing crops and livestock absorb all of the farmer's time. Where does he obtain technical information and advice?

Accustomed to seeking information on all other farm subjects in their favorite farm paper, farmers of Oklahoma naturally turn to The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman for engineering advice. And they get it—not from an amateur—but from the country's foremost farm engineering expert, I. W. Dickerson.

Mr. Dickerson was formerly professor of farm engineering at Illinois Agricultural College and secretary and director of the American Society of Automotive Engineers. His practical solutions of farm engineering and building problems save thousands of dollars annually for readers of The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman.

Most farmers now have Automobiles. Many have tractors, trucks, farm lighting plants and gas engines. They are investing in substantial, permanent equipment. Building large barns, hog houses and silos; putting in concrete water tanks, walks and fence posts present new engineering difficulties to the average farmer.

Hundreds of these farmers require individual information. And each receives a personal reply based on the broad, practical experience of an expert. As with the many other farm specialists who edit The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman, the services of this expert cost the farmer nothing. It is simply another striking illustration of the editorial policy of The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman—"Service to Farm Folks."

Mr. Merchant, readers of The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman are big buyers of farm machinery, equipment and building materials. The advertising columns of The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman constitute their buying guide. Are you supporting the manufacturers who advertise to your customers by stocking their goods and recommending them to your trade?

HOW CAN PRICES MAKE BIG DROP?

Just a Hint to Ada Merchants As to Costs and Prices.

Much has been said and written about prices in the last few months. However, no one has attempted to show just where this drop is to come from, or who will sacrifice their earnings in an effort to accomplish it. We have not heard of any manufacturers, retailers or members of labor unions who have volunteered to work for nothing next season in order to bring it about. A reduction in the prices of surplus stocks can easily occur, as it frequently has in the past, according to the instability of the merchandise or the anxiety of the holder to sell. But that cannot effect the cost of making the same merchandise again.

The price of merchandise to be made up in three or six months from now must be based on manufacturing cost alone.

Rebates, such as were given in some instances this fall, were only possible to the extent of the overcharge at the time of sale. The normal profit is there in each case. No recession in manufacturing costs have occurred to justify either cut in price or the giving of rebates. Manufacturing costs have not decreased in the slightest degree in the last few months. There are no indications now that they will decrease in the near future.

Manufacturing costs consist of labor, materials and overhead. Labor, which is by far the biggest item, has no intention of contributing anything whatever to a drop in prices. No one has even mentioned such a possibility.

A slight reduction in materials was recently announced, as a "feeler." It is not likely to be permanent as the manufacturing costs of materials have not decreased. Even if permanent, it would quickly be absorbed by labor and overhead. Overhead charges cannot possibly be reduced at the present time. If any merchant doubts this, let him try to reduce his fixed charge for rent, heat, light, clerk hire and freight, or his own living expenses, even as little as 5 per cent, and see how it works out.

Therefore, with labor, material and overhead contributing nothing toward a drop in prices, WHERE IS THE BIG DROP TO COME FROM?

GRAND DUCHY OF LUXEMBURG SENDS DIPLOMAT TO U. S.

Baron Raymond de Waha.

Baron Raymond de Waha is the first accredited diplomatic representative from the grand duchy of Luxembourg to the United States. Shortly after his arrival in Washington he left for visits to Chicago, Dubuque and St. Louis, where there are more immigrants from his country than there are inhabitants of the grand duchy itself. The baron is grateful to President Wilson for the latter's advocacy of Luxembourg's autonomy in Paris and expects to see the president before he returns to Europe. Baron de Waha's diplomatic excursion is only temporary. He expects to return to Luxembourg soon, where he is minister of agriculture.

when he gets ready to buy, they will supply him with his goods for next season at 25 or 30 or 40 per cent less than this season's prices, we would suggest this as the proper time to turn loose. Until then he has only propaganda, rumor and public sentiment on which to base his expectations of lower prices—and none of them cut much ice when they bump up against manufacturing costs. Manufacturing costs can only be brought down as fast as labor, material and overhead costs can be reduced. Everyone must realize that this must be a slow process. A sudden cut in wages, for example, would mean general strikes and a stoppage of production. The resulting scarcity of merchandise would certainly not contribute to lower prices.

Manufacturing costs absolutely govern the prices of merchandise that is still to be made up. Manufacturing costs are stubborn things. They are very firmly up right now. They can easily go higher. But they can not be brought down in time to effect prices for the spring of 1921 to any great extent.

"Labor will resist to the utmost any attempt to reduce wages. Neither can increased production be expected, as the labor of this country has been doing its whole duty."—Samuel Gompers.

COX PUTS POST IN THE PILLORY

Accuses Saturday Evening Post of Unfair Campaign Methods.

By the Associated Press

DAYTON, Ohio, Oct. 28.—Another statement charging the Saturday Evening Post and its editor, George Lorimer, with unfair partisanship, was issued today by Governor Cox, democratic presidential candidate.

"The insidious purpose of the Saturday Evening Post cloaked under non-partisan methods for the past decade or more has finally been brought to life," Governor Cox declared, stating that it had made misstatements only four days before election, when it is impossible to correct them. That the Curtis Publishing company had been found guilty of violation of the anti-trust laws by unfair practices in distributing its periodicals, was asserted by Governor Cox, declaring that big business was opposed to him because he would give it a square deal and nothing more.
